WHEEL OF CONTENTS

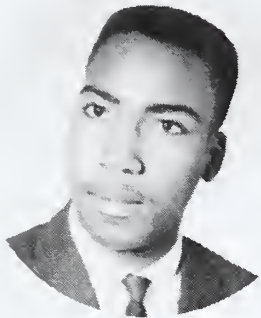

A school building is constructed of steel and cement, strong and permanent, but it is designed to accommodate an ever-changing flow of students. Year after year buses empty their loads each morning and people stream in waves into the hallways and classrooms to the rhythm of bells. Tides of people rush in and out of the rooms and corridors and finally back to the buses, leaving the building empty. Carl Sandburg in his poem "Skyscraper" says "It is the men and women, boys and girls so poured in and out all day that give the building a soul of dreams and thoughts and memories". As each individual forms a part of the mass, so each personality contributes to the whole of Hawley's soul--that abstract thing we call school spirit. Soon we, the class of 1967, will be leaving this student body. With us we will take our individual dreams and thoughts and memories, many of which were molded in these halls and rooms. Before we leave, We present the 1967 Hornet, an abstract collection of the people and events that filled our senior year.

FOREWORD

MESSAGES FROM EDITORS AND BUSINESS MANAGER

Editor in Chief
Ronald Harding

An impressive fact of the times is rapid and progressive change. We are in the midst of such change. Because of recent legislation calling equal rights and opportunities, one has a better chance to adjust to the change. But one must be prepared to make such an adjustment. An education is a necessity to cope with this confusing change.

We are beginning in the right direction by finishing high school. We are now adequately equipped to meet the change head-on and adjust to it completely. Anyone can do as we are doing by taking full advantage of his opportunities. We are doing this and shall conquer the change.

Associate Editor
Annie Watkins

Education is as widespread as life itself. As an associate editor, I am proud to leave this message to you: Strive for higher education. For without education you cannot reach your goals in life.

Regardless of race, color, creed or nationality, the best qualified will get the best jobs or opportunities.

Follow the following objectives:

1. Stay in school.
2. Pay attention to the advisors.
3. Don't let your education go to waste, put it in practice, because practice makes perfect.

I'm taking this opportunity to leave an important message with you not only as a schoolmate but as a friend. Education is essential for life. With all the demand for better job, higher wages and better social living. I advise each of you to take this great opportunity to strive for higher goals. The cost of living is rising higher each day but the price of an education is really being lowered. Take my advice and don't let it sink. Remember that, "He who sails on the sea of education will land on the shore of great success."

THE PERFECT MATES

1967

One of the greatest creations came when God made man in His own image. He scooped the clay from the earth, molded man and blew into his nostril breath until he became a living soul. This was a perfect job and since that day man has been seeking his mate. With this in mind the perfect mates of the class of 1967 are declared unto you.

The young lady has the glowing hair of Juanita Braswell, the face of Barbara Cozart, the smile and complexion of Esther Barnes, the eyes of Josephine Owens, the nose of Lorraine Young, the figure of Linda Scott, and the legs of Helen Green supported by the swift feet of Annie Paschall.

She is neat like Minnie Pearl Cash, She is friendly like Annie Watkins. She is dependable like Gloria Dunston. She is co-operative like Linda Ann Jones. She possesses the ladylike qualities of Jacqueline Smith. She is congenial like Emily Fuller. She is humorous like Ella Johnson.

She is studious like Dorine Allen. Her scholarship is that of Alice Burwell. Her conversation is interesting like Mary Green. She possesses the religious conviction of Dorine Allen. She works well with groups like Lois Daniel Now we stand aside the Perfect Girl of '67 to await her Perfect Mate.

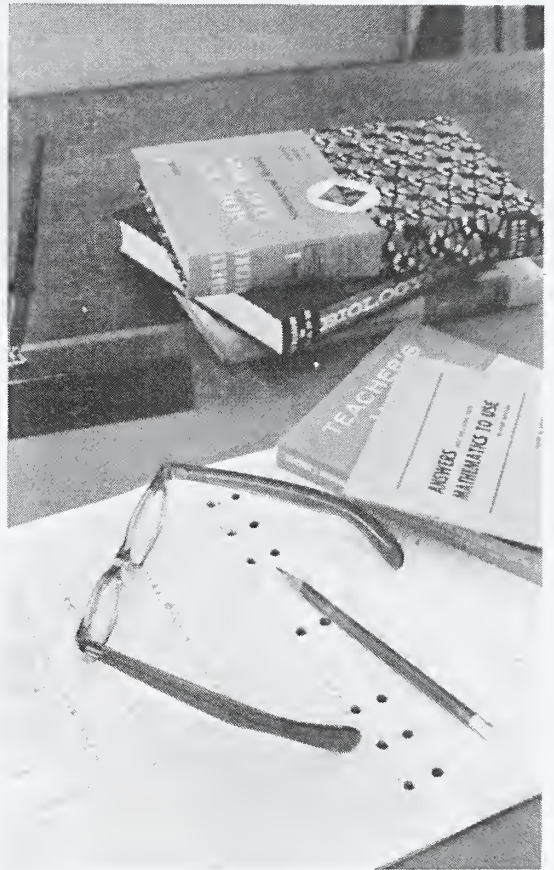

The young man has the hair of Floyd Eaton, the face of Johnnie Fuller, the eyes of Johnnie Morton, the nose of Elliot Winston, and the smile of Herman Williams. He has the physique of Douglas Faulcon, supported by the feet of Wallace Davis.

He is neat like Thomas Cozart, He is friendly like James Jones. He is dependable like James Daniel, co-operative like Owen Bradford, congenial like Benjamin Harris, and a gentleman like Mack Timberlake.

He is studious like Andrew Hester. His scholarship is that of Ronald Harding. His conversations are interesting like Richard Skinner. He possesses the religious conviction of Andrew Hester. He works well with groups like Odis Landis.

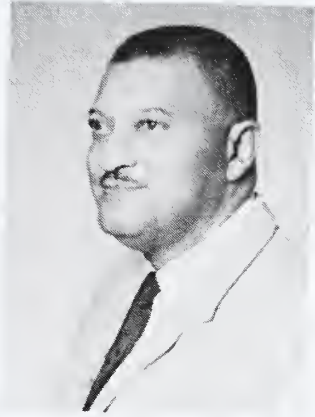

Now we place beside the Perfect Girl of '67, her perfect mate of '67. Seemingly, the parents were predestined to bring to Hawley such fruitful results of which they should be proud.

PRESIDENT

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

To the principal, faculty, members, and student body.

The knowledge we have gained from you will truly mean a great deal to us in the future. These are many departing seniors who at one time might have lost faith within themselves. But, due to your support and guidance, we saw a new light, a light that will tend to lead us to success. If we have truly taken in the knowledge of our leaders, life will not bring us all results that will seem blue, but the glowing delight of gold.

Class History

It was the second day of September, 1963, a calm, peaceful autumn day, radiant with the sunshine of hope, cheer, and joyous promise, that the good rocket ship "G. C. Hawley High School" launched into an atmosphere of a new school year. It was the same old rocket ship that had carried many astronauts to safe landing on the planet of Great Wisdom. This day was a gala day in its history, and many people gazed upon it in wonder as they watched the new astronauts, known as Freshmen, as they so happily stepped aboard, for it was rumored that they were about to explore new and unexplored planets in a quest for the Fountain of Perfect Understanding.

We were young and socially inclined, so it did not take us long to become acquainted with our fellow passengers, nor to feel very much at home with our pilots, Miss Shaw, Mrs. Hedgepeth, and Mr. Gooch. There were naturally a few of the liquid foods that we were not accustomed to and seemed to be disagreeable with our digestive system, such as Algebra I and English I, but we continued to consume them over and over until they were perfectly assimilated.

After returning home for a brief three-months of rest and refueling, we launched once again into another school year, continuing our voyage to the planet of Great Wisdom. Now known as Sophomores, we were more accustomed to our surroundings. The food was a little better. Only a few found Algebra II very tasteful, but it was Ronald Harding's favorite dish.

Under the leadership of Miss Shaw, Mrs. Marrow, and Mr. Gooch, this voyage was highly successful; although, we had not yet reached our goal.

Our third launching was even better than our two previous ones. We blasted off in high gear, bearing the name of "Juniors" this time. Our captains were Mrs. Hedgepeth and Mr. Williams. We encountered a few casualties during this year. Jacqueline spilled a crystal solution on Floyd in Chemistry and Cheryl, Ruby, and Linda Scott got locked in the dark room during chemistry class. Aside from a coat decorated with tiny crystals, a few yells from the dark room, and laughs from the class, no damage was done.

During this year Mack Timberlake became one of the outstanding members of the basketball team and Ronald Harding maintained the "A" honor roll throughout the year. We sponsored our first Junior-Senior Prom, with the theme "Singing in the Rain", which was very appropriate for the rainy weather on prom night.

After three months of vacationing and refueling, we launched into our fourth and final school year. Our food was very tasty this year but two dreaded diseases spread among us. Their common names were "Physics", and "Advanced Math". They were diagnosed by sleepiness, and listlessness. A true symptom of these diseases was to look at one's eyes as he looked at the clock continuously, hoping that it would be time for the bell to sound. A sure cure for these diseases was to look at an "F" on your report card or by some miracle to have the captain "Mrs. Jones", advise you to drop the subject.

Our most outstanding team members during this year were Mack Timberlake, Ronald Harding, Helen Green, e Cheryl Thomas, and Linda Scott. Helen Greene, was honored as Homecoming Queen and Juanita Braswell as Miss Hawley High.

This was our best year but we would not have survived had it not been for our Senior Advisors, Mrs. V. F. Brooks and Miss M. C. Chavis. Our destiny, the fountain of Great Wisdom has not been reached, but each day of our lives we will continue to strive to reach it for our rewards there will indeed be great.

CLASS MOTTO

"The future is a world limited only by ourselves".

POEM

We started out with willing minds
Although the Work was hard
We struggled hard to pass the test
We vowed we'd do our part.

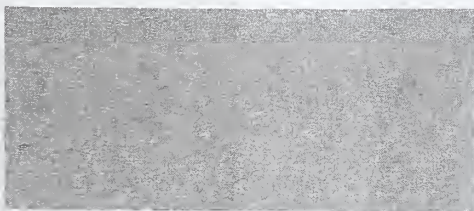

We did our best in all our work
Our tasks both great and small
We toiled and toiled for higher goals
Success? We want it all.

Our teachers guided our best feet and minds
They did their very best
To them we give our heart of thanks
We're prepared to stand the test.

With struggles, toils and tasks so great
A greater success we seek
With lots of knowledge we'll graduate
Our goal we're bound to reach.

So fine	I passed
Said I wasn't Gonna tell nobody	That you flunked
I know that I'm going to lose you	Says Hawley
Stay in school	Underclassmen
What becomes of a Broken Hearted?	If he doesn't make it
Fa-Fa-Fa-(The Sad Song)	We are leaving
I'll be there	Prom Night
Just the one I've been looking for	Diploma
Hymn No. 5	Graduation Song
What makes a man feel good?	When he hears he's going to graduate.
I'M your puppet	Say, the Seniors to Hawley
I swear by stars above.	That I'M gonna study.
Place in the Sun	Cafeteria
I got my baby	Ring
Got to do a little bit better.	In my subjects
A little misunderstanding	In French
On my way home.	From the prom
You got me humming	Says the Choir members to Mr. Riddick
Keeps me hanging on	Graduation Fees
Baby I love you	Lunch hour
That's what I got to know.	How to work
That's enough	Homework
Ain't proud to beg	For more food
Blowing in the wind	Answers to Adv. Math problems
I believe that I'M going to make it	On exams
Share what you got	Lunch money
It's over	Days at Hawley
Oh how happy you have made me	Bell at 3:15
